

The History of

And our indentures tripartite are drawne
Which being sealed enterchangeably,
(A busines that this night may execute:)
To morrow coosen Percy you and I
And my good Lord of Worcester will set forth,
To meet your father and the Scottish power,
As is appointed vs at Shrewsbury.
My Father Glendower is not ready yet,
Nor shall wee need his helpe these foure teene dayes;
Within that space, you may haue drawne together
Your tenants, friendes and neighbouring gentlemen.

Glen. A shorter time shall send me to you, Lords
And in my conduct shall your Ladies come,
From whome you now must steale, and take no leaue
For there will be a world of water shed,
Vpon the parting of your wiues and you.

Hot. Methinkes my moiety North from Burton here
In quantity equals not one of yours:
See, how this riuer comes me cranking in,
And cuts me from the best of all my land,
A huge halfe Moone, a monstrous scantle out:
He haue the current in this place damd vp,
And here the sinug and siluer Trent shall run,
In a new channell, faire and evenly,
It shall not wind with such a deepe indent
To rob me of so rich a bosome here.

Glen. Not wind? it shall, it must, you see it doth.

Mer. Yea, but marke how he beares his course, and runs me vp, with like advantage on the other side, gelding the opposed continent, as much, as on the other side, it takes from you.

War. Yea, but a little charge will trench him here,
And on this Northside, win this cape of land
And then he runs straight and euen,

Hot. He haue it so, a little charge will do it.

Glen. He not haue it alfred.

Hot. Will not you?

Glen. No, nor you shall not.

Hot. Who shall say me nay?

Henry

Glen. VVhy, that wil I,

Hot. Let me not vndersta

Glen. I can speake English
For I was traind vp in the Eng
Where, being but yong, I fra
Many an English dittie, louly
And gaue the tongue a helpe
A vertu that was neuer seene

Hot. Marry, and I am glad
I had rather bea kitten and cr
Then one of these same mite
I had rather heare a braisen ca
Ora dry wheele grat on the
And that would set my teeth
Nothing so much as mishling
Tis like the fore't gate of a th

Glen. Come you shall haue

Hot. I do not care, Ile giue
To any wel deseruing friend:
But in the way of bargaine, m
Ile cauill on the ninth part o
Are the indentures drawne? sh

Glen. The Moone shines f
Ile haue the writer, and with all
Breake with your wiues, of y
I am a fraidemy daughter wi
So much she doreth on her M

Mer. Fie, coosen Percy, sh

Hot. I cannot chuse somet
VVith telling me of the Mold
Of the dreamer Merlin and h
And, of a dragon and a finles
A clip-wingd Griffin and a me
A couc hing Lion, and a ramp
And such a deale of skimbles
As puts me from my faith. I te
He held me last night, at least,
In reckning vp the seuerall d

Glen

F